

Homemade relaxation in a convenient neighborhood

SITUATED AT THE heart of Wan Chai, a historical district that has undergone some interesting gentrification, Loplus@Johnston also enjoys excellent connectivity as the MTR station is merely three minutes' walk away, from where frequent services can whisk you to any part of the metropolis with ease.

Businessmen will appreciate the convenient 5-minute commute to the offices at Admiralty and the business center of Central, where they can combine business with some high-end shopping. Other major shopping malls in Causeway Bay, Taikoo Shing and Tsim Sha Tsui across the harbor are just as easily accessible.

Within the bustling district of Wan Chai itself, the Hong Kong Convention & Exhibition Centre plays host to a wide array of international conferences, exhibitions and other mega events throughout the year, and is only a 10-minute stroll away via the elevated pedestrian walkway.

The neighborhood surrounding the serviced apartment offers an eclectic range of eateries and lifestyle stores. The nearby Star Street and Ship Street are home to trendy bars and fine-dining restaurants, while the newly opened 'The Avenue' is a fine example of heritage conservation featuring an exciting selection of dining and shopping options.

In addition to the MTR, taxis, buses and minibuses are right next to the main entrance of the apartment. The historic trams provide a leisurely ride spanning the breadth of Hong Kong Island, and it doesn't matter whether you head east or west, as you will go through a kaleidoscope of streetscape, and enjoy a sensory experience that is priceless!
